Cash found on C-Train finds way home

- $1,100 discovered during afternoon rush hour
- Rightful owner collected misplaced funds yesterday

Actions taken by Calgary commuters have likely left a fellow passenger counting his lucky charms — all 1,100 of them.

Heading home for the weekend on a southbound C-Train April 15, a woman spotted a wad of cash on the ground near Duane Felt.

"She asked if it was mine and of course it wasn't," Felt recalled yesterday. "We talked amongst ourselves about who might have dropped it. At the next stop, I rushed it up to the C-Train driver."

That operator was Paul Dhoot, who waited until the end of the line before counting the cash with a supervisor.

"We counted and counted and it was $1,100," said Dhoot, who has worked with transit for 25 years. "Items are left all the time, but never to this extent."

The money was turned over to transit officials and is now in possession of the rightful owner, confirmed spokesperson Ron Collins.

"We get acts of kindness every day," Collins noted. "This was a little unusual with that amount of money. It was a good team effort that got it turned in."

Felt said he could see a few $50 and $100 bills were among the wadded up bills, but added that it never crossed his mind to keep the cash for himself.

Lost loot

- Calgary Transit spokesperson Ron Collins said a range of items are left on C-Trains every day, including computers, instruments, wallets and purses.
- The owner of the money could not be reached for comment yesterday.
- Collins did speak with the individual though and said he was "quite grateful."

"We were going to turn it in and that was it," he said. "I'm glad that it worked out."

Convict on the run may be in Calgary

The possibility a former Calgarian — convicted in Arizona of molesting his quadriplegic stepson — may have returned to the area is being investigated by police, according to reports.

George Ross Wilcox, 53, has been on the run since June 2009 after he allegedly jumped bail while awaiting sentencing in a sex assault case.

Wilcox still has relatives in Calgary but has not been spotted since 2009 when he was seen in British Columbia. He is described as six-foot-one, 180 pounds, with brown hair and blue eyes.

Boy in hospital after being hit by truck

A five-year-old boy is recovering in Edmonton hospital after being hit by a vehicle in St. Albert on Sunday.

The boy was struck by a pickup truck in the Grandin area around 7 p.m. after he ran across the street to get a ball while playing street hockey, RCMP said.

The boy was taken by STARS ambulance to Edmonton's Stollery Children's Hospital where he remains in stable condition, RCMP said. His injuries include a fractured skull.

Alcohol is not considered to be a factor, RCMP said.

He went toe-to-toe with the prime minister in a battle of looks and didn't even blink.

Now, Scott Milton is among the finalists to be crowned Canada's sexiest election candidate.

The online competition, launched by Toronto blogger Zach Bussey in early April in hopes of stirring up interest in the current federal campaign, pits 32 men and 32 women against each other in a no-holds barred battle of glam.

Milton, a Green party candidate in Calgary East, toppled Stephen Harper with 89 per cent of the vote in the second round.

He is now a member of the five-candidate men's final along with Liberal Leader Michael Ignatieff and fellow Grit Justin Trudeau among others.

"It's been a pleasure, it's very flattering," Milton said. "(When) so many people from coast-to-coast, not just in Calgary, have voted for you, it's very exciting."

Reached by email yesterday, Bussey said Milton has a solid chance at earning the crown as Canada's sexiest candidate.

"Scott has had a real grassroots movement behind him even before he was aware the contest existed," Bussey said.

In the women's competition, NDP candidate Nadine Bailey, running in Edmonton Mill Woods-Beaumont, is the lone Albertan remaining.

Voting runs until 10 a.m. locally Friday.

Competition

1 As of yesterday, Zach Bussey said 250,000 votes had been cast in Canada's Sexiest Election Candidate competition.

Woman beaten for 12 hours: Cops

► Suspect previously charged with assault of same individual ► Victim in hospital with numerous injuries

JEREMY NOLAÏS
@METRONEWS.CA

Charges have been laid in what a veteran of the Taber police force says is "one of the worst assaults I have ever seen."

A resident of the 8,000-population Alberta town, located about 270 kilometres southeast of Calgary, turned up at a Taber-area hospital Sunday afternoon suffering from what police believe was an assault spanning 12 hours inside her own home.

"We do know that she was repeatedly beaten," said Taber Insp. Graham Abela. "She was struck repeatedly by an object, which we are not specifying at this time. We also believe she was kicked and hit repeatedly.

Abela said the suspect and victim may have previously been involved romantically, and the suspect was previously charged with assault of the same victim March 1.

"It was a much less serious incident by comparison," he said.

Abela said it appears there was a "lull" in the frequent beating sometime before 2 p.m. Sunday and the woman was able to flee her home. She is now suffering from non-life-threatening injuries, including contusions and bruises to her legs, arms, hands and face.

Abela said police may be able to corroborate the events that took place inside the home with the help of a witness.

Retiree Michael Wilson shelled out $400 per day to charter school buses to transport out-of-town students needing to vote by special ballot to designated polling stations. With pickups at SAIT, ACAD, Mount Royal University and the University of Calgary, Wilson said his aim was to make it easier for students to make the trip to polling offices before the deadline for special ballots today at 6 p.m. Special ballots are available to eligible voters who will not be in their riding on election day and allows voters to mail in their ballot from another location.

Body close to being ID'd: RCMP

RCMP believe they have identified the body of a man found dead in a ditch near Okotoks last Friday.

Sgt. Patrick Webb said since releasing a description of the man police have received three or four calls which all identified him as the same person.

"It's a fairly strong tentative ID but it's still tentative until the medical examiner gives us a positive," he said.

The man, whose death is considered suspicious, was found in the ditch without clothes.

The autopsy is expected to be complete today.

Seniors rehearse for faux royal wedding

► 15 retirement home residents will be participating in the production

KATIE TURNER
@METRONEWS.CA

There may not be billions of people tuning in but the residents of a local retirement home plan to don their royal attire and walk down the aisle for their version of the upcoming nuptials.

For months, the staff and residents of Fountains of Mission on 25 Avenue SW have been planning a rehearsal of the royal wedding between William and Kate.

"What it's meant to be is our interpretation of some of the things that might happen at their wedding rehearsal," said general manager Kathleen O'Halloran.

Rehearsal

- The wedding rehearsal at Fountains of Mission will take place tomorrow at 2 p.m.
- Roughly 70 people are expected to attend the event.
- The faux nuptials will be followed by a reception.

Playing the part of the bride, Margaret Russell said she remembers when Prince Charles and Princess Diana were married.

"I expect it will be quite a bit different," said Russell. "If I could only remember back then."

Tories ready to 'hit the ground running'

- Harper maintains Conservatives have strong record of collaborating
- Says government moving 'cautiously' on foreign investment rule changes

An increasingly confident Stephen Harper is treating next week's election like a speed bump en route to a renewed Conservative mandate.

Harper told a crowd at a northern Ontario college that "the business of government will commence Tuesday" if voters honour him with a majority.

The Conservatives "will be able to hit the ground running," he said yesterday in Sault Ste. Marie.

Layton: Fears of split vote unfounded

Jack Layton is dismissing as "absurd" the idea that voting for the resurgent New Democrats could result in a Conservative majority

As he openly pushes for his first unfettered mandate since taking power five years ago, Harper is government.

Layton is responding to suggestions that the surging NDP campaign will drain support not from the Tories, but from their Liberal and Bloc Québécois rivals instead.

And he says the Liberals voted with the Tories more than 100 times in the last three years. THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Bloc Québécois trotted out an old sovereigntist warhorse yesterday as the separatist party continued to fend off an apparent NDP surge in Quebec. Former Parti Québécois premier Jacques Parizeau took the stage at a campaign rally near Montreal, calling on members of his old provincial party to fire up support for their political cousins.

Liberal attack ad lumps NDP, Conservative policies

Stephen Harper and Jack Layton make strange bedfellows in a new Liberal attack ad unveiled yesterday.

The one-minute spot, called "The Loonie," describes the Conservative and NDP leaders as "career politicians" and places them on two sides of a spinning coin.

It strikes a tone similar to Harper's repeated warnings about the dangers of an opposition "coalition," which the Tories have used

Liberal Leader Michael Ignatieff defended the negative tone of the ad during a campaign stop in Thunder

Taliban prisoners tunnel to freedom

► Hundreds escape prison in Kandahar by digging tunnel ► Officials say most were Taliban militants

Hundreds of Taliban fighters bolted from prison in a daring escape overnight Sunday, prompting a huge hunt for the fugitives and exposing glaring security gaps in efforts to contain the insurgency.

Kandahar Gov. Tooryalai Wesa said yesterday that a total of 475 political prisoners had escaped, "including one criminal."

The insurgents had worked for months digging the tunnel they used to get out, Wesa said.

The tunnel started in a house north-east of the Sarpoza prison in the city's Sarfoza area and continued to the entrance of the prison's political block about 300 metres away.

Wesa said later that police shot dead two inmates who tried to evade capture and re-arrested another 26.

A spokesman for the Taliban, Qarii Yousaf Ahmadi, claimed that 541 insurgents escaped overnight after tunnelling underground to avoid security checkpoints.

The Taliban say they spent more than five months building a 1,050-foot tunnel to the main prison in southern Afghanistan.

👉 Doctors give congresswoman green light to attend husband's space launch 👉 Event slated for Friday

A U.S. congresswoman recovering after being shot in the head can fly to Florida this week to watch her astronaut husband rocket into space as commander of the space shuttle Endeavour, but she will return shortly after the launch to resume rehabilitation, her doctors in Houston confirmed yesterday.

The doctors at TIRR Memorial Hermann said Representative Gabrielle Giffords is "medically able" to travel and that they view the trip to Cape Canaveral as part of her rehabilitation from a gunshot wound to the head in January.

The last time Giffords flew was when she was transported on a private jet from the hospital in Tucson, Ariz., that treated her immediately after the Jan. 8 shooting in her home state to Houston, where she has been undergoing intensive rehabilitation. But this time, her flight is not an ambulance transport, Kim added.

"She is medically able and well enough to travel without additional risks," said Kim.

Gates biggest CN shareholder

► His buddy Warren Buffett owns a U.S. railroad ► So is Bill Gates taking a card from Buffett's bridge game?

Microsoft co-founder Bill Gates has become the largest shareholder of Canadian National Railway, with a $3.2-billion stake in Canada's largest rail company.

Montreal-based CN says the world's second-wealthiest man owned or exercised control over 10.04 per cent of its shares as of Feb. 25. He holds the 46.07 million shares through Cascade Investment and as co-trustee of the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation Trust, CN said.

The value of his shares is based on yesterday's trading price of $69.97, up nine cents in afternoon trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange. CN's market capitalization for its 458.6 million shares was $32 billion.

► Bill Gates has been buying up CN stock since being identified as a shareholder in 2006.

Gates's friend and frequent bridge partner Warren Buffett, through his holding company Berkshire Hathaway Inc., acquired full control of U.S. rail company Burlington Northern Santa Fe Corp. last year.

CN releases its first-quarter financial results today. The company's annual meeting is tomorrow in Toronto. Analysts polled by Thomson Reuters expect its adjusted earnings will rise to 88 cents per share on $2.1 billion in revenues. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Bumpy road ahead

Toyota Motor Corp.'s car production in Japan plummeted 62.7 per cent last month due to a parts shortage after the earthquake and tsunami. Toyota sold 8.42 million vehicles last year, just managing to keep its lead over a resurgent General Motors Co., which sold 8.39 million, thanks to booming sales in China. Given Toyota's production woes, analysts predict GM will reclaim the title of world's largest automaker that it lost to Toyota in 2008.

U.A.E. to curb service

Authorities in United Arab Emirates are pushing ahead with plans to impose restrictions on the most secure BlackBerry service on May 1. The policy will limit access to the BlackBerry Enterprise Server to companies with 20 accounts or more. Critics see the new rules as a way to more closely monitor political activism.

Wii shall overcome: New console on the way

The successor to Nintendo's hit Wii console will arrive next year.

In disclosing its plans yesterday, Nintendo Co. didn't say what the new system will do. But it did announce it will show a playable model of the console at the Electronic Entertainment Expo, which runs June 7 to 9 in Los Angeles.

Nintendo has dominated sales of video-game consoles and sold 86 million Wiis since launching it in 2006. Since then it has been widely copied.

But the Wii is showing its age. Even when it launched, it was behind the other consoles of the era, Sony Corp.'s PlayStation 3 and Microsoft Corp.'s Xbox 360, in not offering a high-definition image.

The modest hardware of the Wii has also meant that while Sony and Microsoft have been able to update their consoles with new capabilities, the Wii has seen relatively minor updates, such as addition of the optional Wii Fit and the ability to play Netflix movies.

Nintendo announced plans for the Wii successor as part of its financial results yesterday. Annual earnings dropped for the second straight year as sales declined. It expects sales to rise again in the fiscal year that just started, thanks to its new handheld 3DS device, which launched last month. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

EMBRACE THOSE GUILTY PLEASURES

SHE SAYS...

JESSICA NAPIER
METRO

I've given up trying to be cool.

For a while there I was pretty focused on being on trend; listening to the right bands (great, but not so great that everyone already knows about them), wearing the hottest shade of nail polish, eating at restaurants that refused to take reservations. You get the point.

Lately, however, I've decided to get over myself and embrace the fact that I'm not really all that hip. In fact, I actually like a lot of things that are pretty lame. I have a lengthy iPod playlist dedicated to Brit-pop from the early 2000s, enjoy eating Nutella sandwiches made with white-trash Wonder bread, and spend an embarrassing amount of time watching Say Yes To The Dress.

Once in a while I allow myself to purchase a trashy paperback housed in the young adult section of the bookstore. Every time, I find myself hastily explaining to the cashier that my (non-existent) 14-year-old cousin just loves vampire-romance novels. At home, I hide my secret stash of tweentastic page-turners behind stacks of more acceptable reading material.

So why do I proudly display my collection of classic literature and cultural theory textbooks but conceal my worn-in copies of Harry Potter?

Scholarly pursuits, high art and fine cuisine are usually found at the top of the cultural hierarchy while reality television, monster truck rallies and Kraft Dinner fall to the bottom. Even lettuce is subject to the high-low divide — my preference for iceberg lettuce over spinach and other leafy greens has led to a number of grocery store debates with my significant other.

Are we right in feeling so ashamed for liking certain things but not others? Is it really all that bad if you don't get modern art or if you have seen (and loved) every Vin Diesel movie ever made, including The Pacifier? So what if you're a closet Nickelback fan — I can't tell the difference between boxed wine and a $60 bottle and I'm OK with that.

Stop defending your bad taste by claiming you like watching Teen Mom "ironically." There is no sense in denying the gratification that comes from our so-called lowbrow interests. Without guilty pleasures celebrity gossip magazines would fold, personal-sized tubs of Ben and Jerry's would go uneaten and the Kardashian empire would come crashing down. OK, maybe that wouldn't be such a bad thing.

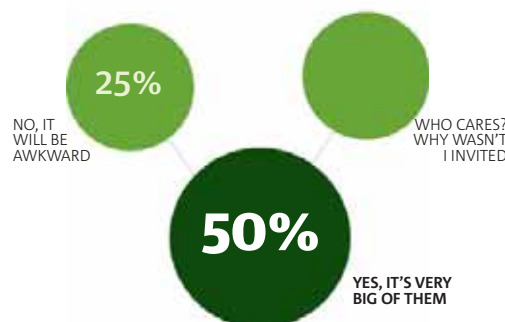

It's terribly exhausting to be sophisticated all the time so why not put the pretension aside and allow yourself to indulge guilt free.

TORONTO. Your cartoon (Michael de Adder) in the April 19 paper, a jab at youth participation in voting, both shocks and offends me.

As a student committed to voting this election, I find this cartoon distasteful.

You should encourage the youth to vote, not depict us hard-working students as lazy. Youth do not vote because we feel we have no voice, nor do we feel as if our elected officials really address the issues that affect us.

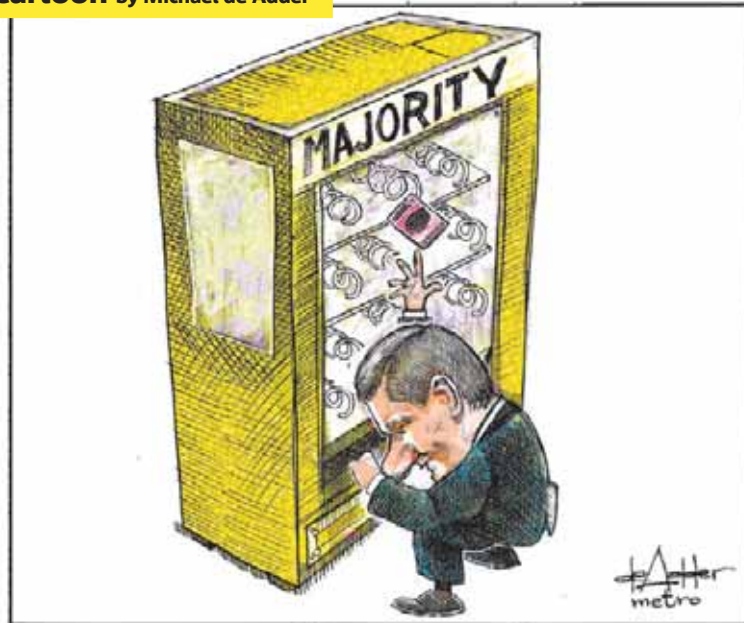

What can the federal or local leaders do for me as a student who has been unemployed for more than two years?

Maybe we don't feel the need to vote because of all the arbitrary political rhetoric that is thrown around in the media and between leaders; we are spectators who are getting scolded for not jumping into a game in which we don't even feel part of.

WEIRD NEWS

A classic story: You never know what you'll find

Book dealer Ken Sanders has seen a lot of nothing in his decades appraising "rare" finds pulled from attics and basements, storage sheds and closets.

Sanders, who occasionally appraises items for PBS's Antiques Roadshow, often employs the "fine art of letting people down gently."

But on a recent Saturday while volunteering at a fundraiser for the small town museum in Sandy, Utah, just south of Salt Lake, Sanders got the surprise of a lifetime.

"Late in the afternoon, a man sat down and started unwrapping a book from a big plastic sack, informing me he had a really, really old book and he thought it might be worth some money," he said. "I kinda start, oh boy, I've heard this before."

Then he produced a tattered, partial copy of the 500-year-old Nuremberg Chronicle.

The German language edition printed by Anton Koberger and published in 1493 is a world history beginning in biblical times. It's considered one of the earliest and most lavishly illustrated books of the 15th century. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Aimee Teegarden is smart, beautiful and good natured, but she doesn't have a date for the dance she's organizing in Prom. While that irony sinks in, consider how smart she is in real life. After five years on Friday Night Lights, the 21-year-old is producing her own projects.

"I've had amazing opportunities," Teegarden said. "I've seen what everyone's job entailed and jumped at the idea of creating my own work from now on. Finding projects and scripts to get them up and running excites me."

Prom follows high school seniors anxiously awaiting the end of school ritual.

"They get senior-itis, wondering if they'll go to college or figure out whether to with their boyfriend or girlfriend," she said. "It's not glossy and sparkly and singing and dancing in the hallways."

"It's a film that will be Teegarden and FNL cast mate Taylor Kitsch have a world of opportunities now that the show has ended. "Taylor Kitsch is off being Mr. Movie Star!" Teegarden said. "But we do talk from time to time. He's such a sweet, sweet guy."

Like Kitsch, Teegarden is hitting her stride. "I went straight to Prom, then Scream 4 and Beautiful Wave," she said. "I'm producing Beyond the Darkness for Dennis Quaid at the end of the year. I'm so very busy and so very lucky." ... And smart.

Exploring the journey of grief

Rabbit HoleGenre: DramaDirector: John Cameron MitchellStars: Nicole Kidman, Aaron Eckhart 🌐🌐🌐

Becca (Nicole Kidman) isn't coping with the car-accident death eight months ago of her young son Danny, and who says she should?

Just about everybody. Her practical husband Howie (Aaron Eckhart) wants Becca to resume living by attending group sessions with other bereaved parents.

Becca's sturdy mother Nat (Dianne Wiest) reminds her daughter that she also lost a son, Becca's brother Arthur, and she got over it.

Then there's Becca's sister Izzy (Tammy Blanchard), who has repeatedly screwed up her life, yet is delighted to discover she's pregnant. Why can't Becca just be happy for her?

And so it goes in Rabbit Hole, a perceptive and sympathetic film by John Cameron Mitchell that looks at grief by way of selfish reasonableness.

The movie is a mature statement by Mitchell, whose previous films Shortbus and Hedwig and the Angry Inch took sex as life's major preoccupation.

Rabbit Hole sees a world that is trying to be ordered and nice — but as Kidman's Oscar-nominated Becca curtly observes, "Things aren't nice anymore."

Extras include a director's commentary and deleted scenes.

● PETER HOWELL

Casino JackGenre: BiographyDirector: George HickenlooperStars: Kevin Spacey, Kelly Preston 🌐🌐

Isn't it funny how drama so often tells the greater truth?

A documentary at Sundance 2010 on the ethical extremes of disgraced U.S. über-lobbyist Jack Abramoff was both a snoozer and puzzler.

But George Hickenlooper, who died prior to release of the film, summons a golden performance out of Kevin Spacey. The film traverses similar ground to the doc, revealing a man who wanted to be both filthy rich and godly. But it has a sense of humour the doc lacks, and goes deeper in Abramoff's psyche.

Barry Pepper, Kelly

Preston and Jon Lovitz provide solid support, although the film may ultimately be of interest only to U.S. political junkies.

Extras include a director's photo diary, deleted scenes and a gag reel.

► Reducing the spread of HIV and AIDS can help put the disease into long-term remission.

Copying Canadians

► Made-in-Canada HIV treatment being implemented by other countries around the world

Thanks to a program pioneered in Canada, future cases of AIDS around the world are being prevented.

HAART, which stands for highly active antiretroviral therapy, uses triple-drug therapy to stop HIV in its tracks. B.C. has been using HAART treatment as prevention since 1996, with dramatic results. "While an outright cure for HIV remains elusive, HAART has transformed HIV infection from a short-term death sentence into a chronic, manageable condition and helped restore the health of thousands in Canada and millions worldwide," says Dr. Julio Montaner, director of the British Columbia Centre for Excellence in HIV/AIDS at St. Paul's Hospital.

The B.C. Centre for Excellence in HIV/AIDS pioneered the concept of Treatment as Prevention and proved that it not only transforms HIV infection into a long-term chronic manageable disease, it also dramatically decreases HIV transmission rates. HAART therapy is available across Canada.

"In appropriately treated individuals, HAART reduces the concentration of HIV present in plasma."

DR. JULIO MONTANER

China recently adopted a similar program as its national HIV policy. The made-in-Canada strategy is also being echoed in San Francisco, New York (the Bronx) and Washington.

Here's the impact the program has had in BC: In the early 1990s, at least one British Columbian per day was dying of AIDS. Since HAART's introduction in 1996, AIDS-related mortality has fallen by more than 90 per cent among those receiving treatment, says Dr. Montaner, who is also chair in AIDS research and head of division of AIDS at the University of British Columbia.

"In appropriately treated individuals, HAART reduces the concentration of HIV present in plasma and in sexual fluids to levels so low as to be undetectable by the best commercially available tests," says Montaner.

Reducing the infection allows people's immune systems to recover and stops the progression of HIV disease and even AIDS.

HAART has virtually eliminated vertical transmission of HIV, i.e. from an HIV infected mother to her baby. New cases of HIV among injection drug users in B.C. have decreased by 50 per cent since 2007. HAART has been shown to reduce sexual transmission of HIV by over 90%, and it is similarly effective in the injection drug use setting.

► A new study has predicted that in the future lunch is the meal most likely to be skipped.

Looking at the food forecast

- Baby boomers predicted to eat more prepared foods
- Younger generation will be skipping meals: study

In 10 years, it's expected that Canadian baby boomers will eat more convenience foods while people born after 1993 will be skipping more meals, according to research released last week.

A study conducted by Toronto marketing research firm NPQ Group, called A Look into The Future of Eating — Canadian Marketplace, says that each generation will make its own distinctive mark on food consumption trends over the next decade.

In their analysis, the NPQ Group asked people across the country to keep a food diary for seven days. It predicted what each generation will be eating in 10 years and whether people tend to eat more or less of a food as they age, and looked at which age groups are growing or declining, explained Joel Greig, a food and beverage industry analyst with the NPQ Group.

The top food groups expected to increase in importance are salty/savoury snacks, which include cheese, and easy meals, such as yogurt or snack bars.

Two of the food groups forecasted to decline in importance are heat-and-eat breakfasts and combination dishes, such as soups and stews.

Yoga makes the healthy heart grow fonder

Practicing yoga (especially the downward dog pose) on a regular basis could help regulate heart beat, reduce symptoms of depression and lower the risk of a stroke.

The research carried out by Dr Lakkireddy and the University of Kansas Hospital showed that after three months of doing poses, breathing exercises and yogic meditation, patients suffering from atrial fibrillation (a common heart defect) reported less anxiety and depression and fewer irregular heartbeats.

Lakkireddy insisted that yoga is a healthy complement to existing medication, not a replacement. ROMINA MCGUINNNESS

A LOVE STORY THAT OVERCAME HARDSHIP

Names:
David and Mandy

Hometown:
New Westminster, B.C.

Together since:
2004

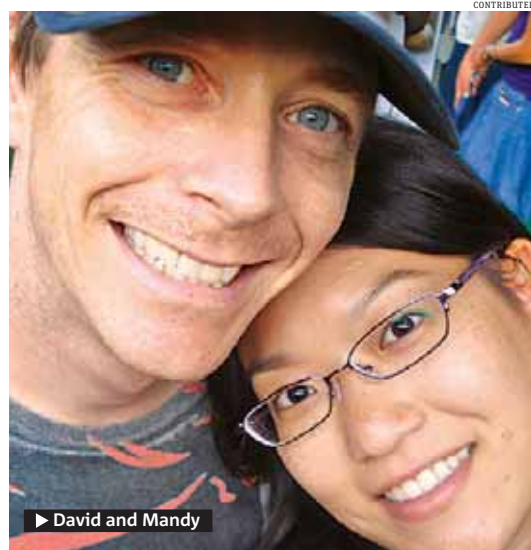

Their story:

Both David and I (Mandy) had followed friends to a Simon Fraser University pub party and, before we knew it, we were squished together in a crowd of strangers.

The circumstances were less than romantic, but those close quarters allowed his infectious humour to grab my attention. By the end of the night, I was enamoured.

After a few phone conversations, David and I went on our first date.

I knew immediately that there was something

► David and Mandy

special about him.

And when he took a call from his sister during our date and explained to her whom he was with, I could tell by the tone of his voice that he had been feeling the same way about me.

David is easy to fall in love with, and I did — fast.

We were lucky to know the strength and depth of our love early on as we were about to face hardship. A year and a half into our relationship, David suffered a traumatic brain injury. He had to undergo a year of intense therapy in order to regain memories of our life together. Although he was changed, I knew our love was something special, and we remained committed to each other.

Ten months after his accident, David and his sister planned a surprise trip to Toronto for me.

He proposed at the top of the CN Tower. We married on March 3, 2011.

MAYBE 'HE'S JUST NOT THAT INTO YOU'

I went out on a date with this guy and it went really well. We set up a second date as we both had a great time. The only problem is he never called me back! I texted him a couple of times, but aside from some random, non-committal texts back, he's never asked me out again. What did I miss?

Clueless Against My Will

Claire: Dear Clueless,

If I could answer this I'd be richer than He-of-the-meringue-hairdo (Donald Trump). You say the date went well, so I assume that the conversation flowed easily, that his body language was good, and that you didn't mention that your meds have kicked in so that you don't hear "the voices" quite as often as you used to.

If any of the above is incorrect then the date didn't go as well as you thought, and that's why he didn't call.

But if it did, then this might have nothing to do with you: I believe that as we get older, timing increasingly dictates whether or not a relationship has a chance to bloom.

Perhaps he's in that grey area — that intersection between different phases of his life where all he knows is that he doesn't know what he wants.

The other possibility is that your date went so well that the ecstasy of your potential relationship was too life-altering for him to cope with, so he ran. In which case, keep taking your meds and move on.

Andrea: Dear Clueless,

There's a saying that I believe applies here: "He's just not that into you."

But don't fret. He did you a favour! By not engaging you beyond that one date, he quite possibly saved you the trouble of emotional upheaval down the road.

Although no one likes the silent treatment or pretending nothing happened, you didn't have to go through liking him, then not liking him and the inevitable, uncomfortable "we need to talk" talk.

The point is, you didn't miss a thing.

Instead, ask yourself what you liked about him, then use that information to find an even better hottie.

Once you learn to take a step back, you can enjoy the ride, and isn't that the best part?

'Precious letters' of love from the Civil War

Alone in his hotel room after a solemn dinner with his brother, the newly enlisted army surgeon took up pen and paper to make the first instalment on his promise.

"I have a few moments," he wrote to his wife, just 16 kilometres up the coast in Lynn. "I am in such a whirl that I can hardly think, much less write."

Just four days earlier, on April 12, 1861, Confederate artillery had fired on Fort Sumter in Charleston Harbor, igniting the Civil War.

On April 15, President Abraham Lincoln issued an urgent appeal "to all loyal citizens," seeking 75,000 volunteers to quell the rebellion.

The very next day, Dr. Bowman Bigelow Breed — my great-grandfather — was on a train south, bound for Boston, and for war.

Bowman and my great-grandmother, Hannah, vowed to write to each other every day, "if only a line."

And they kept their promise as well as one can during a time of war.

GERRY BROOME/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

were apart from the fading echo of those first cannon shots in South Carolina until an assassin's bullet ended Lincoln's life four years later.

Their "precious letters," as each called them, would total nearly 1,000 by war's end.

HOST THE BEST ROYAL WEDDING PARTY EVER!

ROYAL WEDDING INVITATION LOST IN THE MAIL? (OURS TOO.) FEAR NOT, FAIR GUEST!

Simply invite some friends over, catch Will and Kate on the telly and party it up, royal-style! With these tips and tricks, there's no doubt your royal wedding party will be worthy of the prince and princess themselves.

By Milena Canizares, 2forcouples.com

DECOR Set the tone with photo invites. Pile on your fancy finery: a wide-brimmed hat and feminine sundress for her, and an improvised royal uniform for him. Then get snap-happy! These calling cards will get guests in a regal state of mind. Bring Will and Kate to the party. Set up life-sized cutouts of the princely pair by your front door. When guests arrive, they can pose with Will and Kate as you snap Polaroids for take-home mementos. If there was ever a perfect time to bust out the fine china, this would be it. Arrange up-turned teacups and delicate plates to create stands for food. Get on board the royal wedding souvenir train! Pick up the latest memorabilia—from comics to keychains to magazines—and scatter them around your party space.

FASHION Establish a strict dress code for your prestigious royal wedding party: sundresses and fascinators (a.k.a. feather headpieces) for the ladies, and lounge suits (a.k.a. casual suits) for gents. Give guys Union Jack pocket squares to add some royal flair to their outfits. Keep strands of faux pearls on hand to give to any ladies who arrive slightly underdressed. Arrange your fanciest hats in a display for guests to play dress-up.

FOOD & DRINK Greet guests with monogrammed sugar cookies. Cover with white icing and use red and blue for Will and Kate's entwined initials. Serve comfort food—but with a gourmet twist. Try a grilled cheese station with unusual toppings—sauerkraut, pickles, beets and fried onions—along with tea sandwiches, spring pea soup, chèvre tarts and mini meat pies. Stock the bar with Tanqueray London Dry gin for its genuine royal heritage, which includes an official royal warrant and royal recognition dating back to the 1700s.

Toast the royal couple with cocktails representing something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue. For dessert, think rice pudding, peppermint hot-fudge sundaes, fancy cupcakes and scones with clotted cream and berries.

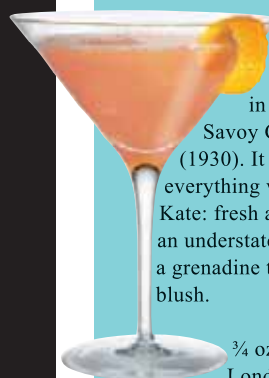

PARTY FAVORS Package small groupings of British candies in clear bags. Tie with royal blue ribbon and give to royal wedding party guests as a sweet parting gift. Make a take-home CD for guests. Rather than throwing rice at the television, give royal wedding party guests bubbles to blow after the I do's. Customize labels with mini flags or photos of Will and Kate.

Get in on the party with the 2forcouples.com Royal Wedding 2011 app for iPhone and iPad. For up-to-the minute Will & Kate info and giveaways, hit up facebook.com/WillandKate.

KINGLY COCKTAILS

Angus Winchester, Global Ambassador for the House of Tanqueray, took inspiration from the old adage “something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue” to develop gin cocktails to toast the royal couple.

SOMETHING OLD The Blushing Bride

This classic cocktail was first published in the famed Savoy Cocktail Book (1930). It embodies everything we love about Kate: fresh and lively, with an understated elegance, and a grenadine twist for a little blush.

¾ oz. Tanqueray London Dry gin, ¾ oz. triple sec, ½ oz. orange juice, ½ oz. lemon juice and ½ oz. grenadine.

Shake all ingredients very hard and strain into chilled cocktail glass. Garnish with orange zest.

SOMETHING NEW The Newlyweds

This original cocktail was handcrafted for Prince William and Kate. It features pineapple (a.k.a. “the king of fruit”) so named for its crown of leaves. Serve it in a long glass to represent the royal couples' long life together.

1 ½ oz. Tanqueray London Dry gin 1 oz. fresh lemon juice, 1 oz. simple syrup, 3 chunks fresh pineapple, 1 small slice fresh ginger and Soda water.

Muddle fruit and add remaining ingredients, except soda. Shake hard and strain into tall ice-filled glass. Add soda and garnish with pineapple leaf and wedge.

SOMETHING BORROWED Yin and Yang

“Borrowed” from world-renowned mixologist, Audrey Saunders, this cocktail is intended to demonstrate equality in marriage. It features equal parts of gin and vermouth, with a little bit of spice—important in all good marriages!

¾ oz. Tanqueray London Dry gin, ¾ oz. Noilly Prat Original Dry vermouth and Dash orange bitters.

Stir all ingredients together and strain into chilled cocktail glass. Garnish with orange twist.

SOMETHING BLUE Colour Me Royal

In honor of Princess Diana's sapphire engagement ring, which now adorns Kate Middleton's hand, this eye-catching drink sparkles as it forms a brilliant blue ring on the bottom of the glass.

¾ oz. Tanqueray London Dry gin, ½ oz. maraschino liqueur, ½ oz. fresh lemon juice and 1 barspoon blue curacao

Shake all ingredients, except blue curacao, and strain into chilled cocktail glass. Slowly pour blue curacao down the inside of glass to rest at the bottom.

Want to save $1,000 this summer?

Wipe the cob webs off your roller blades and tune up that rusty bicycle that's sat in storage all winter.

This summer, bike, blade, run or walk to work or social events. Rather than paying big bucks for outdoor concerts and events, grab your hiking boots and hit the local trails in Canada's beautiful national parks. Not only will you feel better about your health, but, you'll save on metro passes, vehicle maintenance, extremely expensive gasoline and entertainment.

Set a frugal fitness goal such as being active for at least 30 to 45 minutes each day.

Consider changing your eating habits too. Lounging on patios, soaking up the sunshine, having a few cold ones and snacking can add up to hundreds of dollars throughout the summer season. Invite your friends over to kick back in your yard or balcony. Host a barbeque or meet at an empty field, have a picnic and play softball.

Set a frugal entertainment goal such as socializing with friends outside restaurants and bars once a week.

I'm an avid cook and I long for summer when I can buy a wider variety of locally grown and organic fresh food.

Buying food in season and from local growers can translate into better prices and helps support small business within your community.

ANDREE LAU
FOOD@METRONWS.CA

Kane's Harley Diner is a fantastic place for a family-friendly lunch. The kitschy Inglewood homage to Harleys dishes out plates that will keep you full on the road and beyond.

The best plates are the ones dripping with homemade gravy like the Burn Out Hammy ($10.50).

In this dish, sautéed mushrooms and onions were slathered over a well-done hamburger patty on thick, garlic toast.

Route 66 ($10) is another gravy-worthy vessel.

► Burn Out Hammy from Kane's.

Two thick slabs of meatloaf, flecked with minced vegetables, came on toasted bread, lettuce, tomato and onion.

Fries are ordinary but the onion rings are nice and crunchy.

Despite pies listed on the menu, there were none. Fortunately, the homemade cinnamon buns are to die for. Kane's serves them cut in half, toasted warm and then smeared with cream cheese frosting.

The decade-old biker decor (black, white and orange) is showing its age but regulars come for the down-home food and service, which is of the "sweetie" and "darling" variety.

Balsamic Glazed Mushrooms

This unique Balsamic Glazed Mushroom dish can be served over hot cooked rice or salad greens for a light vegetarian meal.

It will also work great as a side dish with grilled chicken or pork.

Preparation:

- 1 In a measuring cup or small bowl, mix together the vinegar, lime juice, sugar, garlic and hot red pepper flakes; set aside.
- 2 Heat a large skillet or wok over medium-high heat. Add the walnuts; cook and stir constantly for 2 to 3 minutes or until lightly toasted; remove and set aside.
- 3 In the same skillet, heat oil over medium-high heat; add the mushrooms and stir-fry for 3 to 4 minutes. Add the walnuts to the skillet and stir in the vinegar mixture while stirring constantly for 2 to 3 minutes or until the sauce is bubbling and the mushrooms are well coated

- 4 Serve the Balsamic Glazed Mushrooms on hot rice, mixed greens or as a side dish to grilled meat.

Tip: For a spicier dish, increase the amount of red pepper flakes to 1 tsp (5 mL).

Lightning force Pens to Game 7

Steve Downie scored to snap a third-period tie as the Tampa Bay Lightning beat the Pittsburgh Penguins 4-2 to send their first-round series to Game 7.

The deciding game is tomorrow night in Pittsburgh, where Tampa Bay has already won twice this post-season, including an 8-2 Game 5 blowout that be-

Downie put the Lightning ahead for good, scoring after Pittsburgh's Jordan Staal gave the Penguins life with a goal to tie it 2-2 early in the third. Teddy Purcell, Sean Bergenheim and Ryan Malone also scored for the Lightning.

Pascal Dupuis scored the Penguins' other goal.

Canucks GM blames refs for team's woes

- Luongo will start in net tonight
- Schneider will be available to play

General manager Mike Gillis is blaming the referees for the Vancouver Canucks being forced to play a Game 7 in their NHL playoff series against the Chicago Blackhawks.

Gillis said his team has its back against the wall because more penalties are being called against the Canucks than Chicago.

"I'm not sure how you explain that discrepancy, but we're going to be very hard-pressed to win hockey games if, throughout the entire series, when the score is tight, they get 75 per cent more power plays than we do," Gillis said yesterday.

"That's the facts we are facing."

Coach Alain Vigneault

said goaltender Roberto Luongo will start for the Canucks tonight (CBC, 8 p.m.). In a surprise move, Vigneault started backup Cory Schneider in Game 6 Sunday night in Chicago.

"(Luongo) knew yesterday he was either going to start Game 1 of the next series or start Game 7," said Vigneault.

A playoff that began with Vancouver being favoured to win the Stanley Cup could end in one of the most embarrassing meltdowns in franchise history.

The Canucks took a commanding 3-0 lead in the best-of-seven Western Conference quarter-final series but have lost three consecutive games.

Judge orders end to NFL lockout

Six weeks into the NFL lockout, players have an early court triumph over the owners.

U.S. District Judge Susan Richard Nelson ordered an immediate end to the lockout yesterday, siding with the players in their fight with the owners over how to divide the $9-billion US business. The NFL immediately said it would ask Nel-

Send a KISS

You can now post your kiss, and read even more kisses, online at metronews.ca/kiss.

Ryan, I am really happy we are together, and I would like more hugs and kisses. Thanks!
From MICHELLE

Nicole, You mean the world to me. You're beautiful, caring and simply wonderful. I hope one day we can lay upon an open sun-kissed meadow and spend hours doing nothing but being together. Will you go to prom with me?
From DANIEL

Kitty, Happy 20 Months babe, Aug. 28th i know i remember, i confessed . i know you don't love me, but you care about me that's whats special. You know how i feel and you care . What we have is really special, and today i just want to say i love you kitty :) Bye bye !

Today's horoscope

♈ Aries March 21-April 20 It may seem as if certain areas of your life are not functioning as well as they should.

♉ Taurus April 21-May 21 If you make an effort to help someone in need today your kindness will be noted.

♊ Gemini May 22-June 21 Don't limit your horizons — be open to new experiences.

♋ Cancer June 22-July 22 If you think that your efforts have not been properly rewarded that will change very soon.

♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 23 It's good to get away from the daily grind once in a while.

♍ Virgo Aug. 24-Sept. 22 You will be attracted to someone who is as different from you as chalk is from cheese ♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23 Don't give in to jealous feelings.

♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22 The harder you have pushed yourself in recent weeks the more you need to take things easy now

♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21

For today's crossword answers and for expanded horoscopes, go to metronews.ca

A new relationship is likely but give it time to develop.

♐ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 20

Forgive and forget and let someone know that you do not hold a grudge against them.

♑ Aquarius Jan. 21-Feb. 18

If life isn't a great adventure then you're doing it wrong.

♒ Pisces Feb. 19-March 20. You're in a buying mood and the more things cost the more you want them.
